Hartford Republican

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

J. B. ROGERS, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1893.

HONE Rule is gaining ground in Britain.

Covington had a $400,000 fire Sunday morning.

The State Senate is without a quorum about half the time.

If Prohibition doesn't prohibit, why are whiskeyites opposed to it?

It was a cold day Saturday for Cleveland to be inaugurated, but still colder for the Nation.

The Democratic party has full control of the Nation's affairs. May the Lord have mercy on us!

Our roads are almost impassable on account of mud. O, for a Legislature that would pass a Road Law!

An appropriation of $65,000 was secured for the Rumsey Locks in the closing hours of the last session of Congress.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON arrived at his home at Indianapolis Monday and was tendered an ovation. Thousands of citizens turned out to do him honor.

BON BARRETT, negro farm-hand in Henderson county, was killed by four brothers, named Massie, for a gallon of whisky. Two of the four were arrested and the other two escaped.

HARTFORD is full of patriotic Democrats, who are just now taxing themselves to the utmost to show Uncle Sam that he cannot possibly run the Government without their services. Go in, boys, make the most of this four years.

If Hartford had no young men, if it had no boys, if it had no women, if it had no school, if it had no law-abiding people, if it had no churches, if it had no inhabitants save confirmed drunkards the argument for saloons would even then be scarcely the shade of a shadow.

THERE will be no extra session of Congress notwithstanding that the McKinley Bill, that measure so roundly abused by the Democrats is still in operation. If it is such an infamous measure as the Democrats claim it is they owe it to the people to repeal it at once. It was only Democratic misrepresentation, that is all.

THE Hancock Clarion is the latest newspaper venture at Havesville, Hancock county. It hasn't very good politics, but from the appearance of their first issue, its editors, Mastin & Sterlette, are awake to the interests of Havesville and Hancock county, and should have the hearty support of the good people of that county, regardless of politics.

THE Christians who favor Prohibition have had two prayermeetings, at which they asked God to avert the danger which threatens the town in the way of the proposed open saloons. It is now in order for the saloonists to have a prayermeeting in the interest of their cause. Imagine if you can a man asking God to help him establish a saloon. Bah!

ACCORDING to expectation a petition signed by E. W. Taylor and others was presented to the County Court Monday, and an election ordered for May 2d, at which time the people will vote whether or not they will sustain or repudiate the present Prohibition law. The duty of every citizen is plain. We need no saloons. They would be detrimental to the best interests of our town. They add nothing to the welfare of the community. It is true they are producers and consumers in a sense. They use raw material and produce a finished product. Their raw material is virtuous manhood, the finished product is a ruined life. We do not need any such manufacturing establishment in our midst. We prefer the raw material in this instance to the finished product. Vote against whisky.

CLOSE OF ABBIEVILLE SCHOOL.
The school at Abbeville taught by Miss Mallie Ferguson, closed with an exhibition at the schoolhouse, last Friday night. The following is the program:

Salutatory—Effie Katon. Recitation, "Colored Philosophy"—Wm. Hinton. Recitation, "Grace and Dolly"—Hettie Vance. Recitation, "Kentucky Philosophy"—Guy Rowan. Recitation, "Mother's Children"—Pearl Turner. Recitation, "Just Lazy"—Rowan Cox.

Dialogue—"Marriage." Recitation, "Almost a Man"—Willie Vance. Recitation, "Entertaining Sister's Beau"—Flaudia Porter. Tableau—"Better an old Man's Darling than a Young Man's Slave."

Dialogue, "The Widows Mistake." Recitation, "The Famine"—Florence Rowan. Recitation, "Spring"—Alex. Porter. Recitation, "Kentucky Belle"—Eva Turner. Recitation, "Bald-headed Man"—Talley Carson.

Tableau, "Bluebeard." Recitation, "Coquette Punished"—Una Turner. Recitation, "Dot Baby of Mein"—Orion Cox. Recitation, "Grittan's Reply to Mr. Corry"—Randall Rowan.

"Boys and Girls." "Dialogue" Marplot. "Oration on Matrimony"—Una Turner. Recitation, "Green Mountain Justice"—Effie Katon. Recitation, "Spartacus to the Gladiators at Capua"—Herbert Hoover. Recitation, "The New School-house"—Florence Rowan. Recitation, "The Maniac"—Eva Turner.

Dialogue, "Courtship Under Difficulties." Recitation, "The Dutchman's Serenade"—Orion Cox. Tableau, "Trial of Joan of Arc." Pantomime Speech—"Buck" Hinton.

Miss Mallie has taught a splendid school, giving entire satisfaction and this entertainment is a fitting close to a five month's good work. She is spoken of for the next term.

A. C. Rowan and family, of Abbeville, will please accept our grateful thanks for their hospitable entertainment while with them recently.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.
Mar. 8.—I notice in your last issue that one "Pro Bono Publico" says that Henry L. Thomas, the principal instigator of the Catholic Church near this place, wanted to sell out and move away as the church was too close to him. The falsity of his statement begins with characterizing me as the principal instigator. While I aided in the building of the church, the distinction of instigator, if it be a distinction, belongs entirely to my son. That I have at any time expressed myself as desiring to leave the community of the church is absolutely and unqualifiedly false, and was written for the purpose of ridicule.

We will grant "Pro Bono Publico" the privilege of blowing his own children as much as he chooses, as indeed he devotes the greater part of his letter to this purpose, but I shall retain the privilege of advertising my farm when I choose to do so.

In order to continue the falsity of statements in his letter he says M. L. Axton lost a fine colt from some strange disease; making the impression, of course, that the colt was dead. Mr. Axton had a sick colt, it is true, but it is improving rapidly, so says Albert Harrison, who now owns the colt.

Wanted.
A good reliable man with team to crop on shares. Twenty-five or thirty acres of first-class land near Owensboro, Ky. References. Apply at this office or address C. F. McCarthy, P. O. Box, No. 53, Owensboro, Kentucky.

DO YOU KNOW

That the jonquils are due?
That "Tohe" Thomas is a dandy?
What W. Q. Gresham's politics is?
That Dr. Miller has a new horse?
That the REPUBLICAN is growing?
That Lon Render wants a tennis set?
That Henry Nall is looking for a girl?
That the Beaver Dam school has a fine choir?

That Lee Stevens parts his hair in the middle?
That everybody loves flattery in some form or other.
That marriage is a failure—in the ease of our bachelors?

That Jim Polk Thompson is just as good-looking as ever?
That M. B. Foster is teaching a writing school at Concord?
That Princeton is making a big fight on the blind tiger?

That it is easier to get into debt than it is to get out?
That everybody should take his county paper and pay for it?

That if the tongue could kill not many would die of old age?
That J. C. Riley paid the fairs a quarter for an envelope box.

That a grand-daughter of John C. Calhoun has gone on the stage?
That the catapult is now a very popular street weapon in Hartford?

That life is tough at best, but it is intolerable in connection with mud.
That the man who picks his own cross seldom ever gets the right one?

That diamond has the most sparkle but window glass does the most good?
That Dr. E. Baird and Jim Smith are the champion mousethrowers?

That you should attend the play at Beaver Dam Saturday night, the 11?
That little Sherman Green, of Abbeville, can say a speech like Cicero?

That there are a few folks in the world who are almost as smart as you are?
That both Beaver Dam and Rockport are thinking of establishing graded schools?

That every man who voted for Cleveland thinks he is a better Democrat than Gresham?
That if the ladies will wear hoop-skirts the gentlemen should retaliate by wearing hoop-shirts?

That every town and neighborhood in the county has been well represented in Hartford this week?
That if you undertake to prove that there is no hell every mean man will throw up his hat?

That the girl who looks at you from under the left corner of her hat is looking for a sweetheart?
That if you have the wrong kind of religion on the streets you don't have the right kind in church?

That blue eyes love black and black eyes love blue, that mad mothers smile and kisses do too?
That the size of the vacuum in your cranium is measured by the amount of giggling you do in church?

That A. L. Morton has been a subscriber to every paper published in the county since his boyhood?
That Jockey Street was crowded Monday and Tuesday, and many thinly clad equine skeletons changed hands?

That one of the oldest men in the county is Old Uncle Louis Tinsley, a highly respected colored citizen of the Red neighborhood?
That Jim Thomas has been shaving for three months, but not the remotest resemblance of a moustache had put in its appearance at time of going to press?

That if you travel in March and expect to keep pace with the weather you should take with you an overcoat, a duster, a pair of overshoes, an umbrella, a rubber coat and a fan?

That a California paper makes a mention of the birth of a child born of German parents. The notice was written by a Dane; set up in type by a Mormon; the proof was read by an American; placed on the form by a Mexican and printed by an Italian?

That an English paper offered a prize for the best definition of money. This one secured it: "An article which may be used as a universal passport to everywhere except heaven, and as a universal provider of everything except happiness."

That at a Church "hugging bee" in Alabama the other day, a man while blindfolded, hugged his own wife and when the fact was made known to him he got mad and demanded his money back. And the wife demanded double rates for the part she played in the transaction?

Card of Thanks.

Mar. 5.—I hereby extend my thanks to the young people of the Pleasant Hill neighborhood for the ten dollars they gave me without any solicitation on my part at the close of our meeting with these words: "We give you this with our well wishes for the appreciation and love we have for you and we hope to meet you in Heaven." May God's spirit lead these dear young people, with their dear parents and family, in the path of peace to the sweet bye and bye is the prayer of your servant.

R. F. ROMANS.

HEPINS.

Mar. 4.—Talking of Mizzards, North pole and dynamite, there is nothing that can be compared to the Arctic climate prevailing here at this time. Last night the mercury coolly dropped down to—well, not where as we didn't have any thermometer, and could only judge the temperature by the chilly sensation that passed down our spine, but, we think it reached zero.

Jo. B. Rogers, Hartford, attended the school exercises last night.

W. M. Hedlin went to Centertown Sunday on business, returning Monday.

Louis Ashby, Centertown, bought a number of cattle in this neighborhood Wednesday.

While running logs last week, Buell Ross, in a state of absent-mindedness, took a sudden plunge into 20 feet of water. Some tall splashing and a profusion of dark profanity was all that betrayed his emotional feelings.

MR. McWHIRTER.

TAYLOR MINES.

Mar. 4.—Bill Baltzell and E. D. Dillman made a flying trip to Central City to sell their mules, but didn't succeed.

Dick Tifford, of Beaver Dam, was in town last Saturday night. Miss Nora Martin is the guest of Miss Eva Baltzell this week.

Rev. Mitchell preached at our place Saturday night and Sunday. A son was born to the wife of Dave Maitland Sunday morning.

We have a lot of sickness here. Thomas Hunter has been very sick and has gone home. We hope he will soon recover.

Miss Eva Baltzell returned home from Horton last week. Miss Maggie Lyon, Fordsville, is visiting Miss Eva Baltzell at Taylor Mines.

Forest Martin, of Beaver Dam, is visiting his grandmother at Taylor Mines.

FRIENDSHIP.

Mar. 5.—Burning tobacco beds, sowing oats, etc., seems to be the order of the day.

John Gregory moved into his new house a few weeks ago.

Miss Elizabeth Royal, Deaneville, is visiting relatives at this place.

Mrs. Sarah Laiden spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Mary Royal.

A. P. and C. A. Kelley have gone into the mercantile business at Deaneville.

Mrs. Lucy Reid contemplates paying her relatives near Select a visit in a few weeks.

Mrs. Nancy Brandon and Mrs. Viola Westerfield spent Tuesday with Mrs. Lucy Reid, and Mrs. Gimela Royal, Morris Royal and wife visited John Gregory and family Sunday.

Miss Sallie Quisenberry visitor in Prof. Ringo's class, which was held by Miss Mamie Bennett in his absence.

Henry Carson's name was restored to roll after a long absence.

E. V. Milligan was a visitor in Prof. Lytle's class.

Closing hymn, No. 874. School dismissed by repeating Lord's Prayer in concert.

Prayer-meeting well attended on Wednesday night. Short discourse delivered by the pastor.

BAPTIST.

The questions given out the Sunday before were the source of considerable interest on the part of the school.

G. B. Likens gave a very instructive talk on the observance of the Sabbath.

Miss Laura Render responds next Sunday.

By request Dr. Coleman will give a statement of the peculiarities of Baptist Faith and Practice, in his sermon at 11 o'clock Sunday.

PREBYTERIAN.

Rev. J. C. Buchanan preached an able sermon on "The Christian Armor." His sermon on Sunday night was especially for the benefit of the young men.

The Sunday School is flourishing.

GOLD PREMIUMS.

TO THE FARMERS.—With the view of encouraging the tobacco crop, which is the money staple of this county, we have decided to offer a premium of TEN DOLLARS in gold for the best ten pounds of Burley tobacco, also, the same amount for the same sample of Red Pryor tobacco, grown in Ohio county in the year of 1893, and with the aid of the "Homestead Tobacco Grower." The samples to be exhibited at our store after maturity and curing of the crop. The time to be made known through the county papers. That the quality and quantity of this crop can be advanced, perhaps 50, or even 100 [hundred] percent, by the judicious use of the "Homestead" is unquestionable, as will be attested by numbers of our best farmers, who have for years been using it. We take pleasure in referring the public to Alex. Wright, Robert Plummer, J. Ham Miller, George H. Barnes, Laveta W. Hocker, J. Wilson Rowe, Alfred Ashby, Jun. P. Foster, Jo. Foster & Bro., A. C. Ellis and many others too numerous to mention. It is very evident to every observant farmer that a good fertilizer is needed for tobacco, because the virgin soil has been exhausted and the supply of barnyard manures is limited, therefore the tobacco crop must be abandoned or a fertilizer substituted. We heartily believe that a true tobacco fertilizer is found in the "Homestead" and that the producing of a superior article of tobacco is the best paying crop for small farmers, because on a few acres of land more dollars can be made in tobacco than any other crop. We hope to get the attention of the good farmers to this matter, believing that it will be to the material interest of ourselves and them, for it must be remembered that the tobacco crop has grown to enormous proportions—the annual product, $400,000,000. We invite farmers to call on us and we will be pleased to talk with them on this subject. We will furnish in small quantities for plant beds or gardens or in as large quantities as may be ordered. Call on, or address,

A wonderful event.

In such a state of civilization as ours, where merit is sure to be acknowledged, is it a wonder the factory of Dr. Fenner is worked to its fullest capacity to supply the medicines that are called, after such acknowledgements as the following come to be known: Wm. Farquay, Stevens Station, Ind., writes: "Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Bladder Cure has cured a man here with kidney and bladder disease whom the best physicians had given up. He is now well and sound. It is regarded here as a most wonderful event. His medicines are all good and give great satisfaction." Equally certain in female diseases, rheumatism, blood diseases, headaches, dropsy, heart disease, etc. Guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Take home a bottle to-day.

Greatest on Earth.

Jas. M. Brooks, Washington Ave., St. Louis, Mo., makes affidavit that he suffered from Rheumatism for years, until persuaded to try Dr. Fenner's Lightning Remedy, and that by its use he has been fully restored. He says the remedy is the greatest on earth. This is high praise, but fully warranted by other miraculous cures. If your druggist has not got Dr. Fenner's Lightning Remedy, write direct to the Dr. Fenner Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

Immense line of everything at Fair Bros. & Co.
"Bud" Gentry, of Cromwell, will accept our thanks for kindness rendered during a recent visit to his pleasant little city.
Remember that Frederick D. Losey will be at the Court House Monday night, March 13. He is a fine elocutionist and it will be a great treat.
The fakir was here in great shape Monday and Tuesday, gulling the people out of their hard earned cash. He ought to have been taxed out of town.
Special prayer services were held at the Methodist Church Wednesday night and at the Baptist Church last night in the interest of the opposition to open saloons.
Mr. D. E. Thomas has opened a new grocery in the Red Front. Mr. Thomas is one of our most successful business men and we wish him success in his new venture.
The Alexander Sunday School, which has been in winter quarters for the past few months, will re-organize next Sunday afternoon. Everybody is invited to attend and take part.
The students at the College are at work on the display for the Kentucky Exhibit at the World's Fair. All schools that have work for the Educational Exhibit will send it in this office by Saturday, March 18th.
From what we can learn the Contractors on the new railroad have instituted a system of tyranny over their work hands unparalleled in the history of our country. They have by their atrocious greed, won the condemnation of the good people along the line of the road and deserve the rigorous enforcement of the law against them.

Circuit Court convened Monday with W. T. Owen, presiding Judge; J. E. Rowe, Commonwealth's Attorney, and G. B. Likens, Clerk.
Lost—Last Tuesday week, a red and white spotted bird dog, wearing a collar and answers to the name of "Leck." Return to Hartford House and be liberally rewarded.
We are glad to welcome back to our midst, D. L. Smith and family. Mr. Smith has been in the Revenue service the past four years and has now moved back to his farm in the Washington neighborhood.
Circuit Court began Monday and there have been large crowds in town most all the week. Our business men generally have done a large business, as many of our farmers have been purchasing their spring supplies.

The following is a list of the Grand Jurymen: W. I. Rowe, Foreman; A. L. Chick, D. B. Trout, A. P. Maddox, C. W. Butler, Noble, Bean, Ben Newton, A. L. Stevens, D. M. Park, Lawrence Stevens, Frank Cooper and E. L. Sullenger.
Our young friend, Prof. S. C. Stevens, of Beaver Dam, has accepted a position as salesman for the H. Parmer Library Company, Des Moines, Iowa, with Western Kentucky as his territory. Steve is one of Ohio county's self-made men and we wish him abundant success.
Haden Porter, of Cromwell, was drowned at Evansville on Wednesday night of last week. He was employed as night watchman on a lumber boat, and in making his rounds lost his balance and fell overboard, drowning before help could reach him. His brothers, J. M. and Herschel Porter, learned of his death Friday, and the former went at once to Evansville and instituted search for the body but without success. Mr. Porter returned on Monday. Haden was a worthy young man and it is sad to know he has been taken from the world just in the beginning of his usefulness. The family have the sympathy of the whole people.

Miss Annie Renfrow, Sulphur Springs, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Moore, the first of the week.
T. C. Pirtle, of Cromwell, traveling salesman for Ingalls & Co., Louisville, was in the city the first of the week.
George Will Bennett, a former resident of No Creek, but now of Owensboro, was in town the first of the week.
J. H. B. Carson, of the firm of Carson & Co., goes Monday to Louisville, Cincinnati and the East to lay in a stock for the Spring trade.
Miss Sallie Coleman, one of Ohio county's most efficient teachers and who has just closed a very successful school at Attnaville, returned home Saturday.
Mrs. C. R. Martin, who has been quite sick for several months past, we are sorry to say, is no better, but hopes are entertained that she may soon be much improved in health.

FORDESVILLE.
Three miles and a half south of Fordeville, where the extension of the O. & T. R. crosses Silver Mine Ridge, the water shed between Rough River and Adam's Fork, is found the deepest cut on the whole route. It is a cut through dirt, rock and slate, three hundred yards long and forty-two feet deep. Thomson & Shaver, the contractors for the entire construction of the entire road, took direct charge of this section making this place their headquarters. This work is being performed by negroes and mules brought here by the contractors. The substance taken from the cut is utilized in making a fill below the cut, which is almost as giant like as the cut itself.
Dirt was broke on this section last September and the work has been pushed day and night ever since and it will likely be the first of May before it is completed.
Just below the cut, in the bottoms is the commissary, a kitchen, a feed stable, a managers office, a powder house, mule shed, a blacksmith shop and a number of shanties, in which the negroes live. These go to make up a rude imitation of a village or I might say, a fair specimen of a colonial town. These shacks are built, some of logs, some of lumber and others of rails, with low doors and roofs scarcely high enough for a man to stand straight under and low chimneys, usually topped off with an oil barrel. Powder cans serve for chairs and as for beds—well, straw is out of the question. A few of these negroes have their wives with them and they are able to board themselves, but the majority of them get their meals at the kitchen. The bill of fare and the manner of serving it is absolutely too bad for description.
These negroes, as I said at first, were brought here by the contractors, who paid their transportation, which left each one of them about fifteen dollars in debt to the company at the beginning. They are allowed one dollar and twenty five cents a day for their labor and are charged forty five cents a day for their meals, paid off before pay day, as necessity demands, in checks good only for merchandise in the commissary, where such high prices are charged—in fact two prices, that many find it hard to get even with the company and all find it very hard to keep even with them.

The ladies and gentlemen of Beaver Dam will present a play entitled, "Among the Breakers," at the school hall Saturday night, March 11, for the benefit of the Masonic Hall. All who heard their play "The Last Leaf" a year ago realized there was no little theatrical talent in the troupe presenting it, and a treat is no doubt in store for the public. Admission 25c. and 15c. Doors open at 6:30.

Touched the Heart.
When the heart is affected by Rheumatism, or any of the muscles near that organ, it is like tampering with an electric wire, for death may come at any moment. If life is worth it, go to the druggist and get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, or send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York, and they will send you a large bottle by express. It is not as quick as electricity, but it will save your life if you take it in time. Agents wanted.

BARNETT'S PERRY.
March 5.—Miss Fannie Blacklock is very sick. Miss Ida Hari is better after a long illness.
The train comes to Davidson Station now. The road will be completed in a month or so.
Uncle Pink Petty died on the 5th. He was an old citizen in this community. He was 81 years old.
The protracted meeting, conducted by Revs. Winkler and Richey, is progressing slowly.

A great many have ten, twenty or even thirty dollars of these checks, which the managers refuse to cash and even refuse some work until they spend what they already have. This is to insure them against having to pay the negroes money on the next pay day. A description of the treatment of these poor ignorant laborers would only recall a memory of the cruel slavery days. For some time back, as is the case at this season of the year, the works are very muddy and the negroes are very poorly shod, really some of them have no shoes at all, working half the time at night and being otherwise exposed, the result is, much sickness in the camp. About half a mile from the works on the highest part of Silver Mine Ridge, where the morning sun sheds its first rays of golden light, commanding a view far away to the South and East, is a lonely spot heretofore unnoticed, but now watched by all passers and known to the country around as Carters Cut graveyard. Here four stones mark the last resting place of four negro men, three of whom died a natural death and the other was killed by a Commissary Clerk. Those negroes died as many others are living, under nothing short of the bonds of slavery. Yet all this is carried on under this grand old Republic of ours that twenty seven years ago abolished slavery and established the truth that all men were created free and equal.
Why are we put to the expense of courts and legislatures and what are our cons for?
I am not a lover of negroes as you might suppose, but I do love to see justice freely dealt to all, regardless of race, color or character and if slavery is to be re-established regardless of law or principle, let us, who are to bear the blame reap the benefit and not a set of tyrannical railroad men. I ask again, what are Constitutional for?

College Happenings.
It has been quite a while since the public has heard from us through the paper, therefore, we thought we would write a few notes this week. Never has there been better work in any school than is being done in Hartford College at present, both teachers and students are thoroughly interested and are bringing their work up to the highest standard.
We have been honored with quite a number of visitors the past week. Misses Annie Renfrow, Sulphur Springs, and Eva Morton, City, attended General Exercises last Friday morning.
Monday morning, Misses Sue Yeiser, Sallie Coleman, Laura Render, Adah Baird, City, and Will H. Rhoads, Greenville, were welcome visitors at General Exercises.
J. Ham Barnes, who has been at home for several weeks attending a sick brother, has returned to school and resumed his studies.
The two Literary Societies are flourishing, and interest in their work increases at each meeting.
Dr. Alexander's class in Psychology is doing fine work. Their discussions are interesting indeed.
The little folks of our school are doing fine work. Their interest does not flag in the least but increases as new work presents itself.
Miss Verda Duke attended General Exercises Thursday morning. We are always glad to have visitors and would be glad if the citizens of our town would come to see us often.

ARRAIGNED.

performance, and snap and snarl and whine like "a stranger car" at the manner in which your two immediate predecessors performed their duty, and

HOW! HEYNA-LIKE OVER THE GRAVE of the lamented Blackburn as if to drag his honored bones in the arena in extenuation of your own delinquency.

Shame on such petty exhibitions of malevolent spite! Unless discontinued you may yet enforce upon some grand jury the unpleasant duty of presenting you as a common scold!

"Assume a virtue, if you have it not." Put on, if you can, at least THE SEMBLANCE OF TRUE MANHOOD, and, though there may lie within the same petty passion which now disfigure you, put on "a swashing and a manly outside," that the people may fondly delude themselves with the hope that you are not altogether unworthy of the confidence they once reposed in you.

While the manner and the language in which I have replied to your communication are entirely my own, it is my privilege to say that all the gentlemen with whom I was especially associated in the matter under discussion authorize me to state, and for himself as far as he was concerned in the transaction, that my presentation of the facts meets with their full concurrence.

It has not been to me a source of any pleasure to reply to the WANTON AND UNPROVOKED ASSAULT you have chosen to make on me and my official associates. When you entered on the duties of your office I earnestly desired the success of your administration in the interests of the people of the Commonwealth; and, on taking my leave of you, frankly and sincerely tendered you my humble services to bid you in explaining fully any matters connected with the late administration which might not be clear to your mind. It is due to you to say that you expressed, at that time, your appreciation of this friendly proffer, and intimated your purpose to avail yourself of it. But from that day to this you have never invited information either from me or from any of the gentlemen associated with me on the subject matter of your communication. But, instead, you began soon to give out intimations of your purpose to make some horrible revelations, intimations "that roared so loud and thundered in the index" that they seemed designed "to fright the State from its propriety."

After eighteen months of painful gestation, amid throes and agonies to which the convulsions of the mountain that brought forth a mouse were as nothing, you were delivered of the STILL-BORN MOSTROSITY, whose dissection you have made it my painful duty to perform.

It was the remark of one of our distinguished orators that there were some people of such contracted views that they could not see that they had made a dollar unless they discovered that some one else had lost it; and it is an idea prevailing among some savages that they inherit the deeds and virtues of the warriors they slay. Some notion of this sort seems to have entered your mind and impressed you with the belief that if you could possibly succeed in inflicting the slightest taint on the reputation of another it would be the means of REMOVING A CORRESPONDENCE FROM your own conscience. As nothing had occurred to illustrate your administration, or place it above the lowest mediocrity, you evidently thought that the road to glorious achievement led through the dark labyrinth of defamation. As success in this line could not be attained by fair means, you seem not to have hesitated to resort to questionable methods. Through this mode of procedure in your past life had caused YOUR NAME TO BE DESCRIBED IN DISHONOR on the archives of the government, you failed to profit by a lesson which must have proved so humiliating. The same methods have adhered to you. I have shown wherein you have concealed circumstances in order to deceive, have suppressed facts that disproved your assertions and have not hesitated.

EVEN TO INVENT "CALUMNY" when though necessary to your ends. You seem to have found in such methods something grateful and congenial to your nature, and habitually to have descended to a line of action the very suggestion of which would have been indignantly spurned by the Crittendens, the Dixons, the Brethitts, the Shells and the other great names, our predecessors in the office to which you have been called. The contrast is so painful that I can not entertain for you any harsher feeling than one of profound compassion, and, therefore, dismiss you to the contemplation of your own dark thoughts and to the repair of your torn, tattered and tarnished reputation.

S. B. BUCKNER.

Possibilities of Hartford.

HARTFORD, Ky., Mar. 9, 1893. It appears to be a conceded fact that we must not say anything in favor of our own town. A more erroneous idea never crept into the minds of a people. To speak of our various resources will enable others to see our many advantages and perhaps may cause more energy and push to be manifested on the part of our own citizens. In order that all may be benefited, we must furnish a sufficient amount of employment. When we benefit others we are benefiting ourselves. Where is there a town more favorably situated than this? It is located in the heart of a mining section and is surrounded by fertile soil with an abundance of most valuable timber. There is no town in the State that is better watered and better situated for manufacturing purposes. Rough River furnishes a constant supply of running water throughout the year, and enough power is lost every year to drive ten times the amount of machinery that is now kept in operation by it. There is an abundance of coal within two or three miles that is comparatively unemployed, and it is no trouble to secure plenty of stone suitable for building purposes. But how are we going to put all this vast amount of natural wealth in a condition to serve the purpose for which it was intended, it should be asked? We must first improve our county roads, and place the town in easy connection with the N. & M. V. R. R., by building a pike to some convenient point on that road. A joint stock company should be organized and owing to the favorable condition and location of suitable materials, the work could be done at a very small cost. Then we must have Rough River put in a condition that it will be navigable during the year. With these outlets we could afford to wait for the construction of a railroad; and our chances are very good along that line. The Irvington branch will be built through to Madisonville and will doubtless be extended from that point through Providence and Sturgis to the Ohio River, which would make it a most valuable competing line. Throughout the county it would pass through a continuous belt of coal, iron ore and limestone rock. Through McLean county it would intersect a fine belt of farming country together with plenty of timber. In Hopkins, it would again intersect rich coal beds and at Providence it would pass through a very rich tobacco section. Again through Union it would tap the finest wheat belt in the State, giving an outlet to the Ohio at both ends of the line for all our varied natural products. Hartford could then invite capital and offer it all the inducements and advantages needed. Instead of shipping our raw timber, it could be worked up into furniture, hubs, spokes, boards and various other ways, and put on the market either North or South. Why let all this wealth float by unheeded, to Evansville and the South, when it can be worked up here at a less cost? Our mill depends on another market for their barrels, on the account of a lack of production here, and we are constantly shipping in various articles and large quantities of farm products that should be produced at home. Louisville depends on Pittsburgh for her coal, while Ohio county has enough to last her for centuries, without the slightest danger of a "freeze-up" and causing a coal famine in mid-winter. We do not furnish it, because it is not developed, the greater part of it being remote from any railroad. We complain of the idleness of a class of our citizens, while there is, at the same time, but little constant employment offered them. How many men in Hartford work a large force of hands, and on the other hand, how much capital do we find comparatively idle? One Flouring Mill, one Tobacco Factory, one Saw Mill and one Woolen Mill, each working a small force of hands, while there are many who can or do only lay around, waiting for a ten minutes job. This class, and the idle capital, are like our untapped water power, that is constantly flowing by us every year and we are almost totally unconscious of the amount of wealth lost from the lack of improvements.

Our streets and sidewalks are simply in a deplorable condition, while we are paying large sums of money every year expressly for that purpose. But you say you cannot collect the taxes, neither can you get any work done on the streets, all of which is strange, and merely goes to prove that there is a wonderful lack of public spirit, energy and enterprise. It is simply absurd. Other towns keep their streets in splendid condition and they have the same difficulties to contend with that Hartford has, except their officers are men of public enterprise and realize the value received for the town's money. When we help others we are helping ourselves and when we improve our town we enhance the value of all the property in the town, not only that, it speaks well for the whole county. Morganfield has doubled her population since 1888. Would anyone say that Union county is not proud of her county seat? The whole county feels the benefit of this rapid growth. But you will not find many idle men about the place. It is not a comfortable place for them. In the summer of 1891, they were spending at least $5,000 on their streets and side walks, and they were being put in admirable condition, while Hartford gets about $50 worth of work done every year, for about $75, and that does not begin to place even the side walks in anything like repair. Let us wake up and bestir ourselves—show to the world that we have some enterprise, think well of our county, our town and our public institutions belonging thereto, and public, as well as private success, will crown our efforts.

Very truly, I.

Feb. 26.—If the pretty weather continues the farmers will soon be busy sowing oats.

W. N. Stevens, V. G. Barnett and S. E. Bennett and William Tinsley left for Evansville last week with several rafts of logs.

Misses Ora Barnett, Mamie and Bertie Ward and Nina Bennett, No Creek, spent Saturday night in this vicinity not long since.

Miss Gertrude Mills spent several days last week visiting friends in Daviess county.

If madam rumor is right we will have a wedding to report next week.

Misses Georgia Hudson, Mabel Kimbley and Etta Thomas, Hartford, visited Miss Bertha Riley the night of the exhibition at Alexander.

Robt. E. Webb and wife, of near Newville, spent Saturday night and Sunday visiting relatives in this community.

Misses Nannie Ellis and Mattie Chinn, Hecla, visited Mrs. A. C. Ellis not long since.

Wm. Ward and family have moved to their new home on No Creek, where they will make their future home. We regret losing them from our midst, but our loss is No Creek's gain.

The Alexander schoolhouse caught fire one day last week and before it was discovered a good portion of the roof had burned and was caving in. The teacher and students succeeded in getting the fire stopped. The fire is supposed to have caught from the stove. The patrons, in a district will endeavor to repair the loss at once and as soon as the house is in condition the school will continue before.

Miss Ada Patton spent Saturday and Sunday above Hartford, the guest of Miss Lillie Barnes.

On the morning of the 24th of Feb. just as the sun had begun to cast its beautiful rays over this broad land of ours, the Lord saw fit in his infinite wisdom to call from this world of trouble, Mrs. Mary Jones, who died after an illness of only two days of that dread disease, pneumonia. She leaves an aged father, two sisters and two daughters to mourn their loss. Weep not, dear friends, she is only gone before to guide you to that realm above where parting is no more. We sympathize with the family in this, their bereavement, but can only say trust in God and all is well.
